Opening the classroom to the mind's eye

Jane Arnold (Helbling) Room 0.117 (ground floor)

A powerful way to improve language learning is to activate and use our students' mental images. Great artists, scientists and athletes have relied on imagery, and it can support many areas of the language acquisition process, from memory to reading comprehension to motivation and beyond. In this practical workshop we'll explore options for using this free and enjoyable resource.

Media motivates! Using short films, videos and adverts in the classroom

Louise Carleton-Gertsch Room 3.140 (third floor)

Are you looking for alternative ways to revise vocabulary, practise grammar, introduce a new topic or inspire a creative response? Videos are a great way to do so. This talk, including practical tips and examples, will look at how short films, videos and story-based adverts can be used in the classroom to actively support the learning process and increase motivation.

Mobile videos: creating video to develop oral skills

Kat Robb Room 3.142 (third floor)

In this talk I present strategies for developing oral skills using video to scaffold the learning process. I discuss the creation of video specifically using mobile devices, and the importance of self-reflection. I also demonstrate how I have implemented this myself in different teaching contexts and the conclusions I have drawn.
